Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear Sir(s) Madam(s),

I find the proposed settlement of the Microsoft case unsatisfactory. As a computer professional for more than 15 years I have watched Microsoft grow from a small company to a very large company. In that time I have been dismayed by the business practices of the company which I feel have stifled technical innovation by means of broken standards and aggressive actions towards it competitors. As a consumer and user of Netscape Navigator I feel that I have been harmed by the tactics by which Microsoft sought to make Internet Explorer the number one browser. I see further signs that the company is making inroads in 3D gaming and stands to follow much the same pattern as it has in the past. I believe that the company should be broken up into at least 3 separate entities and face heavy fines.

Sincerely,

Mark Gyska
